Today's Reading

Psalms 63:1-5

1. God, you are my God; I shall be watching for you; my soul thirsts for You, my flesh yearns for You, In a dry and exhausted land where there is no water. 2. So have I seen You in the sanctuary, to see Your power and glory. 3. Because Your favor is better than life, my lips will praise You. 4. So I will bless You as long as I live; I will lift up my hands in Your name. 5. My soul is satisfied as with fat and fatness, And my mouth offers praises with joyful lips.

DEVOTIONAL

Friends of God

We do not choose to be a friend of God. That is by invitation only. Only two people in the Old Testament were specifically described as "friends of God." Abraham walked with the Lord so closely that God referred to him as His friend (Isa. 41:8). Moses spoke to God face-to-face as a man speaks with his friend (Exod. 33:11)

By his very nature God is a friend to us. He loves us with a perfect love and reaches out to us with salvation when we can offer Him nothing in return. It is quite another thing when someone has a heart so devoted to Him that God initiates a special friendship. David's heart was totally devoted to God (1 Kings 11:4). Although David was not sinless, he loved God. David hated sin (Ps. 103:3); he loved to worship God (Ps. 122:1); he took genuine delight in God's presence (2 Sam. 6:14); he loved to speak about God (Ps. 34:1); he was keenly aware of his transgressions (Ps. 51:3-4); and he delighted in offering gifts of song, thanksgiving, and praise, asking for nothing in return (Ps. 100). So closely did David walk with God that his words were on Jesus' mind as He hung upon the cross (Matt 27:46)

Jesus called His disciples friends. He said He would disclose to them things that the Father had shared with Him, because they were his friends. There developed such an intimate friendship between them that He would share what was on His heart with His friends.

If we cannot describe ourselves as a friend of God, we need to commit to seek after God with all of our hearts.

"I do not call you slaves anymore, because a slave doesn't know what his master is doing. I have called you friends, because I have made known to you everything I have heard from My father."
